The private equity industry in Mexico is at a very prosperous time. The country's economic model, structural reforms and the corporate scheme have fostered more dynamic growth and encouraged public and private investment for national development, generating a great economic impact.

Currently the private equity and venture capital industry in Mexico has more than 165 active funds that have jointly raised more than USD$42 billion over the last fifteen years to be invested in all productive sectors of our country. Particularly we are proud of the strengthening that has had the industry in Mexico, which during the last ten years presents a compound annual growth of 21%.
